Leadership at MACH speed

Leadership isn't a title. It's an invitation. From commanding fighter jet squadrons and aircraft carriers to leading teams in corporate America, Mike Manazir (U.S. Navy, Ret.) has spent his life leading in the most high-stakes environments on earth. Mike has led thousands through chaos, uncertainty, and complexity. Today, through his books, keynotes and executive coaching, he brings those leadership lessons to organizations and teams ready to rise.

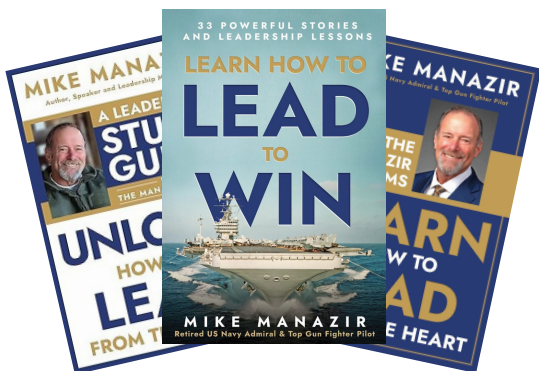

What Mike Brings to Every Audience

- Battle-tested leadership lessons from the world's most demanding environments—combat aviation, carrier command, and high-stakes corporate operations.
- A human-centered leadership playbook for building trust, alignment, and high performance across every level of an organization.
- Powerful, cinematic stories that inspire leaders to act with clarity, courage, and conviction, even under pressure.
- A values-based approach that champions authenticity, excellence, and purpose-driven leadership.
- Real-world tools for increasing morale, strengthening communication, and unlocking team potential.
- Actionable takeaways leaders can implement immediately—at work, at home, and even in life.
